

Your Degree Pathway

A degree in Work and Labour Studies requires the completion of 90 Credits for a Bachelor's Degree (three years) or 120 Credits for an Honours Degree (four years). Your courses will consist of Major, General Education, and Elective Courses.

First Year

First year will introduce you to the university environment, provide you with general education courses, and allow options for you to study courses aligned with your own interests.

Work and Labour Studies Courses: The Future of Work

General Education Courses: Humanities, Social Sciences or Natural Sciences (for non-science students)

Elective Courses: Your choice of courses outside of Work and Labour Studies

Second Year

In your second year, you will continue your development of the fundamentals of Work and Labour Studies.

Work and Labour Studies Courses: Labour Relations in Canada (required), Diversity in the Canadian Workplace (optional)

General Education Courses: Humanities, Social Sciences or Natural Sciences (for non-science students)

Elective Courses: Choose new subjects to explore or continue to develop skills from previous selections

Third Year

Your third year in Work and Labour Studies will allow you to explore specific interests in the field.

Work and Labour Studies Course Options: Labour and Globalization; Law, Labour and the State; Sex Work/Sexual Labour + many more

Elective Courses: Choose new subjects to explore or continue to develop skills from previous selections

Fourth Year

In your fourth and final year, your courses in Work and Labour Studies will be designed to meet your specific interests.

Work and Labour Studies Courses: Labour Relations Simulation, and Labour Studies Work Placement

Elective Courses: These courses can include additional Work and Labour Studies courses or further courses of interest at the upper level

Your Degree!